Preferred Visa Destinations by our Applicants

At UKViza, we take pride in assisting our clients with visa applications to some of the most sought-after destinations. Based on our data, the distribution of visa applications is as follows:

- 77.8% of our applicants have chosen the United Kingdom (UK) as their preferred destination, seeking opportunities for travel, education, work, and family reunification.
- 13.1% of applicants have shown interest in visiting Canada, a popular choice for its rich cultural diversity and educational opportunities.
- 11.1% of applicants have applied for visas to the United States (USA), aiming to experience life and opportunities in one of the world's most dynamic economies.

This distribution highlights the UK as the top destination for our clients, reflecting their confidence in our expertise in handling UK visa applications with a high success rate.

Visa Application Breakdown by Type

This bar chart illustrates the percentage of different visa types requested by applicants at UK Visa Institute for three major destinations: the UK, Canada, and the USA. The data is categorized by visa type and presented as a percentage of the total applications for each country.

- United Kingdom (UK):
  - The highest demand is for tourist visas, accounting for 77.88% of total applications. This is followed by skilled worker visas at 9.85%, student visas at 6.51%, and spouse visas at 5.76%.
- Canada:
  - All applications to Canada are for tourist visas, making up 100% of the requests.
- United States (USA):
  - Similarly, all visa applications to the USA are for tourist visas, representing 100% of the total requests.

This donut chart shows the percentage distribution of visa types. Tourist Visas lead with 83.24%, followed by Work Visas at 7.46%, Student Visas at 4.93%, and Spouse Visas at 4.37%. The chart highlights the high demand for travel visas compared to other categories.
